

Your Dream...Our Promise

Scholars' Promise International, LLC (SPI) is an educational services provider that brings together international students, forward thinking American high schools, and American colleges and universities to provide innovative and cooperative educational opportunities. SPI educates international scholars using the academic program of partner schools, providing access to high performing American schools normally prohibited by residence and cost. Studying with a nationally recognized American high school online saves scholars and their families significant funds while positioning the scholars for acceptance to American colleges and universities.

*Your Dream...
Our Promise*

The SCHOLARS' PROMISE

We are Scholars.

We promise to be thoughtful and lead by example because

We are Thinkers and Learners.

We promise to challenge the status quo because

We are Leaders.

We promise to find creative solutions to complex problems because

We are Innovators.

We promise to break through barriers and create pathways to success because

We are Problem-solvers.

We promise to put forth our best efforts every day because

We are Scholars.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM *

Online courses taught by state certified teachers assist scholars in learning the content required for success in American universities. Scholars study the same curriculum as their peers at the partner schools, and upon completion of requirements set by the governing board of the partner schools, will be awarded an American high school diploma, recognized by universities across the world.

*Suggested course of study. May be modified based on partner school requirements and the entry level of a scholar.
